December's weather was full of surprises this year and January may not be any different! Emergency and poor weather conditions may still come our way. In case of these untimely circumstances, please have a family plan covering actions to take in emergency situations. Update your family phone numbers if changes occur and assure that emergency and contact information is up to date.

Our curriculum and activities are known for exploring and focusing on the suggestions and the varied interests of the children attending the program. Generally, many of our themes last about a week; but encouraged by the exuberance of our children, both our November and December line-ups were an exception to the norm!

- November's History of Military Aircraft covered anything and everything from early planes, to modern helicopters, and that some of the largest helicopters in the world are built in the United States! Our DIY planes added to the fun!
- Did you know that one of the creators of Exploding Kittens lives on the island? Our week of Unusual Card Games gave us the opportunity to learn new games using standard decks, plus explore some that were just plain fun and unusual and yes just a bit silly!
- Our Travels Through Japan theme will be spilling over into the month of January! With such a rich culture and history, two weeks is just not enough to take it all in!

January and February will be filled with more great themes and projects ahead and I can't wait to see what our talented kiddos will come up with next! Visit our website to view pictures of the many projects that we've been working on, you'll be glad that you did.
